111

EE1 Bulgaria
Yugoslavia

1: Lee, Dwight E. Bulgaria and Yugoslavia. In Leonid I. Strakhovsky, ed. A Handbook of Slavic Studies, pp. 604-627. Cambridge, Mass: Harvard University Press, 1949.

Yale: Bi3b.949-

[This is a comparative study of Bulgaria and Yugoslavia during the years 1918-1947. Internal political conditions and international relations following World War I, and preceeding and succeeding World War II are treated separately for both countries. Changes in regimes, political movements, and international power politics are traced historically in some detail.--Analyst]

Field date: no date
Analyst: Angelica Baumann

Evaluation: Historian-5
Processed in 1954

111 EE1 Bulgaria

2: Sanders, Irwin T. Balkan Village. Lexington: The University of Kentucky Press, 1949.

Pp. xiv, 291; 8 appendices; glossary; index

Yale: Bx48j. A2. 949s

[Balkan Village is an interesting and comprehensive account of life as it is lived in Dragalevsty. The peasant mind is interpreted, his standard of living is explored, his habits and customs are described. The three concluding chapters are devoted to the changes brought by Communism to this small village. Valuable specific information concerning material mentioned more generally throughout the book is provided in eight appendices. --Analyst]

Field date: none
Analyst: Cory Berman

Evaluation: Sociologist-5
Processed in 1955

111 EE1 Bulgaria

3: Dellin, L. A. D. Labor Law and Relations in Communist Bulgaria. Labor Law Journal, Vol. V, pp. 609-616. Chicago: Commerce Clearing House, Inc., 1954.

Yale: Law Library C 721 (unbound)

[This article succinctly treats labor relations and legislation in Communist Bulgaria, with references to and documentation from the Constitution, the Code of Labor and the Statute of the Trade Unions. Mobilization of labor, wages and hours, collective bargaining and trade union activities are covered in some detail. Analogies to Soviet labor relations are drawn. --Analyst]

Field date: none
Analyst: Angelica Baumann

Evaluation: Social Scientist-4
Processed in 1955

4: Antonoff, Nicolas. Bulgaria - Churches and Religion. New York: Free Europe Press, 1951.

Pp. 53; 2 appendices [A1-A12] [B1-B16]

HRAF Copy.

[This study presents the history of churches and religious belief in Bulgaria from 865 to 1950. The author discusses the functions and organization of churches, their relation with the state, particularly the post-World War II legal and judicial status of religious communities and the clergy. --Analyst]

Field date: none
Analyst: Dragan Zivanovic

Evaluation: Social Scientist-4
Processed in 1955

8: Bojkoff, Liuben. Bulgaria Is Not The Land of Roses Only. Sofia: Chr. G. Danoff, Ltd., 1946.

Pp. 101; 2 appendices, 29 figures.

Yale: Bx48.1m

/This is a highly nationalistic treatment of the growth of Bulgaria. The author traces its development from historical times through the present. Modern improvements in communication, industry, and education are discussed. There are several informative charts illustrating the distribution of population and agricultural production. The appendices contain an extensive graphic outline of the history of Bulgaria, and a chart of Bulgarian railways. --Analyst/

Field date: none
Analyst: June Orloff

Evaluation: Geographer-4, 5
Processed in 1955

9: Shishmanov, Dimitri. A Survey of Bulgarian Literature. Williamsport: The Bayard Press, 1932.

Pp. 40

Yale: Hsc21.Sh6

[This work, originally delivered as a lecture at Columbia University, traces the development of modern Bulgarian literature. It is the author's thesis that the growth and refinement of literature directly contributed to an upsurge in Bulgarian nationalism. This article discusses the most influential schools of writers in Bulgaria; the style which characterized each literary movement; the biographies and philosophies of the outstanding authors. The motivation of the majority of modern Bulgarian writers is, Mr. Shishmanov feels, the pursuit of a political and social reality that can serve as a working basis for their aesthetic ideals. --Analyst]

Field date: none
Analyst: June Orloff

Evaluation: Folklorist-4
Processed in 1955

11: Logio, George Clenton. Bulgaria: Past & Present. Manchester: Sherratt & Hughes, 1936.

Pp. viii, 480. 23 plates, 2 maps, index.

Yale: Bx48 8h.

[This source is concerned with the history, economics and political events in Bulgaria from early pre-slavic times up to 1935. The author, former Secretary of the British Board of Trade Mission to Bulgaria (1919), has drawn on both personal observations and to a greater extent on published materials for the data presented in this book. The data on political events and trends in Bulgaria since its independence from Turkish rule to 1935 are particularly rich and informative. However, the author's interpretations of political events must be treated with caution. --Analyst]

Field date: no date
Analyst: Eugene Lerner

Evaluation: Social Scientist - 4
Processed in 1955